Trial Title: Sensory Perception Research lab

Identified Contact Person: Karen Black

Principal Investigator's Contact Information: kids.research.toronto@gmail.com

Brief Summary of Study's Purpose: Our research project looks at how children ages 6 - 18 with and without autism spectrum disorder see, hear and understand the world around them. Our goal is to understand these processes so that we may be able to use this information to develop interventions that target early language development.

During the study children will participate in different activities: playing computer and word games, looking at pictures, listening to sounds, telling stories and answering questions about social situations and emotions, and watching little designs on a screen while we measure where their eyes are looking. We also ask parents to complete a computer-based questionnaire package about your child's characteristics and emotions.
